

CONTINUING IAC EXPLOITATION NEEDS FROM EXPLOITATION OF FOREIGN LANGUAGE PUBLICATIONS BY FDD

As a result of NSCID-16, FDD/CIA has a primary responsibility to undertake the exploitation of foreign-language publications so as to meet the needs of the various offices of the intelligence community. Some or all of these needs may already be met by existing facilities within or under the jurisdiction of the offices concerned or by other means. It is the objective of the NSCID-16 Exploitation Subcommittee to determine which of these needs are already met and which remain outstanding. From this determination the Subcommittee can then recommend to FDD/CIA where it should best place its effort on a continuing basis. Accordingly, in answering the following questionnaire you should keep in mind (1) only the collection of information from foreign-language publications is involved; (2) needs for information adequately answered by existing facilities should be eliminated; (3) other needs for information on a continuing basis are what should be spelled out, recognizing that "spot" needs must be handled on an ad hoc basis as they arise.
